- Tasks are scheduled at a pay group level.
- There is an option to receive an email notification once the scheduled task is complete.
- The Complete Update task cannot be scheduled.
- You can schedule tasks between 8.00 am and 10.00 pm.

3. Frequently Asked Questions

3.1. Supplementary Payroll

The Scheduled task feature cannot be used when in Supplementary Mode.

3.2. Is There a Limit to the Number of Tasks I can Schedule?

You can schedule one task or combination of tasks, per pay group, at any one time.

3.3. Can I Schedule a Task to run Overnight?

When setting the time, you must choose one of the 30-minute intervals between 8.00 am and 10.00 pm. This limitation is in place to avoid interrupting Workforce Management tasks which run overnight.

3.4. What Happens if a Task is Still Running at 10.00pm?

If a job is running at 10.00pm, it will continue to run until completion.

3.5. Can I Still run Tasks While a Pay Group is in Schedule Tasks Mode?

Yes, you can still run tasks while a pay group is in Schedule Tasks Mode.

3.6. Does Schedule Tasks Affect the Workforce Management Module?

Yes, the Confirm Timesheets task should not be run if absences are scheduled to come into payroll overnight, as Confirm Timesheets closes the current Timesheet Input Period.

The recommended process is to schedule the Confirm Timesheets task (or any combination of tasks that includes Confirm Timesheets) for the following morning.

Note:

If timesheets are confirmed, and absences have mistakenly been included in the incorrect Input Period, then follow the below steps:

1. Reverse Confirm Timesheets.
2. Rerun Payroll Validation.
3. Rerun Confirm Timesheets.
