Calibration

In review calibration, you apply a company standard when reviewing a managers direct reports' performance at work. To view your teams calibration information, follows the below steps:

The calibration screen details what expectations are for the reviews and compares how employees are performing against expectations. It provides a graph when populated, showing three categories:

1. Below Expectations
2. Meets Expectations
3. Exceeds Expectations

The final rating the manager gives the employee would be compared to the recommended final rating. This rating is set on the final step in the appraisal cycle and once a review cycle has been completed, a graph similar to the image below is created, detailing where the employee sits in comparison to expectations.
