1. Overview

1.1. Purpose of the Guide

- An overview of New Year Entitlement
- Enabling New Year Entitlement
- An example of the new year entitlement in use

1.2. New Year Entitlement

The new year entitlement feature support employees to submit and validate leave requests for the next leave year. As part of the Manager approvals process the entitlement can be validated to ensure it is not exceeded. This will improve the employee's user experience as they will be able to plan future leave requests and submit them without having to wait for the new year.

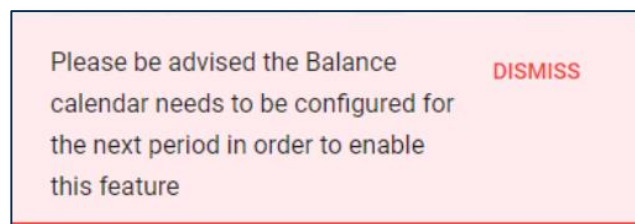

Key Features:

- Supports employees to submit leave requests for the next leave year.
- Displays current and next year leave entitlements.
- Provides a clear view of pending and approved leave requests.
- Integrated validation checks within the system to ensure that leave requests do not exceed entitlements.
- Picks up the employees' current length of service and their current and future FTE updates.
- Real-time updates on leave balances.
- Manager notifications for approval processes.

2. Configuration

For the New Year Entitlement feature to work you must ensure:

- Calendars are created for the new year, including the System Calendar and Balance Calendars. For further guidance see our Company and Calendar Configuration & Balances guides.
- The Maintain Next Period Balance option is turned on, for all required balances. A validation message will display if the preconditions are not met:

We would also advise that it is best practice to:

5. FAQ's

To support you with the new year leave entitlement feature, we have collated the most common questions you've asked us:

Question	Answer
How will I run a balance calculation for future balance?	Employee: when the employee books leave and their balance has a future balance set up. Then the balance recalculation will run behind the scenes, and the screen will load once the job has completed. Manager: the manager can run a balance recalculation for the current open entitlement, and this will also run for the future balance. Admin: an admin can run a balance recalculation within the balance maintenance screen.
What happens to the balance entitlement when an employee is processed as a leaver?	When an employee is processed as a leaver, the next years entitlement is zero-ed out so they cannot book leave for next year when their status is leaver.
How are FTE increments picked up in the next period?	FTE adjustments are no longer copy over from the current year. They are now calculated independently for the next period. This allows for accurate rounding on the new year balance. For example, an employee has a leave date in for November, and their current year balance is adjusted down, as the balance calendar is Jan - Dec. It's adjusted down by 2.5. In this scenario their next year entitlement balance would be adjusted down to 0.
